“Better to remain silent and be thought a fool than to speak out
and remove all doubt.”
